What you have here is a 2014 red ford escape titanium. All the bells and whistles. A couple of scratches. actual mileage is 21021. Why low mileage? I am retired and since physical issues arose last July(2020) I can no longer drive. Guess what? We no longer need two vehicles. I don't want to sell, but no point in letting it sit in the driveway. My car has been one of two things that give me a sense or independence but time to let it go. I am not going into a back and forth with anyone about price. If you are seriously interested, I am putting it on line tomorrow. Price: nothing less than 16K will be considered. Pictures will be posted tomorrow. I will leave it up for a couple of days.
